70 Christians found beheaded in church in DRC

Christians in DRC have again been left reeling after a heinous act of violence that has left 70 believers dead. Please pray for our brothers and sisters in the country as they face escalating persecution.

Rising violence has meant DRC has risen six places in the latest World Watch List (illustrative

VICTIMHOOD

Mohammed claimed they were victims of Mecca's intolerance and thus justified in retaliating against caravans headed there.

.This contrasted with Jesus who did not retaliate when suffered injustice, and taught that if you retaliated you would not be forgiven.

Sigmund Freud, “psychological projection”:

Rude people accuse
those they do not like
of being rude.

Victimhood blaming theory

The victim is at fault for attracting the hostility of the attacker.

If a woman is raped, it is her fault
for tempting the rapist.

PSYCHOLOGICAL PROJECTION

Muslim fighters attacked a nation and then blamed that nation for the attack.

PSYCHOLOGICAL PROJECTION

Alexis de Tocqueville, Democracy in American,
1840:

“Mohammed...put into the Koran not RELIGIOUS doctrines only,

but POLITICAL maxims, CRIMINAL and CIVIL laws.”

“Cut off the hands of thieves, whether they are male or female, as punishment for what they have done—a deterrent from Allah.” (Sura 5:38)

A woman who has been raped is also punished “with a hundred stripes.” (Sura 24:2)

His Encounter with TVRBASHAW Chap. 7.

John Smith was born about 1580 the son of a yeoman farmer of modest means. As a young man he travelled throughout Europe and fought as a soldier in the Netherlands and in Hungary. There he was captured, taken to Turkey and sold into slavery in Russia. He murdered his master, escaped and journeyed back to Hungary to collect a promised reward of money and a coat-of-arms. He returned to England in time to participate in the settlement of Virginia.

Ottoman Turkish Empire went through 3 stages

- 1) expanding 1299-1683*
- 2) maintaining 1683-1828*
- 3) collapsing 1828-1923*

This map illustrates the territorial losses of the Ottoman Empire across three distinct periods. The legend in the bottom-left corner defines the color coding: green for territory lost between 1274 and 1830, red for territory lost between 1830 and 1878, and blue for territory lost between 1878 and 1914. The map shows the Ottoman Empire's extent from the Balkans and the Middle East down to North Africa and Arabia. Key cities like Constantinople (Istanbul), Cairo, Baghdad, and Mecca are marked. Major bodies of water, including the Black Sea, Mediterranean Sea, and Persian Gulf, are also labeled. A scale bar at the bottom left indicates distances in miles and kilometers.

Color	Period of Loss
Green	Territory lost 1274-1830
Red	Territory lost 1830-1878
Blue	Territory lost 1878-1914

Mark Twain, Innocents
Abroad, described Jerusalem
under Ottoman rule:

"Palestine is desolate and
unlovely ... rags, wretchedness, poverty and dirt, those signs and symbols that indicate the presence of Moslem rule ..."

“... Jerusalem is mournful, and dreary, and lifeless. I would not desire to live here ...

Moslems watch the Golden Gate with a jealous eye, and an anxious one, for they have an honored tradition that when it falls, Islamism will fall and with it the Ottoman Empire.”

Twain, Innocents Abroad:

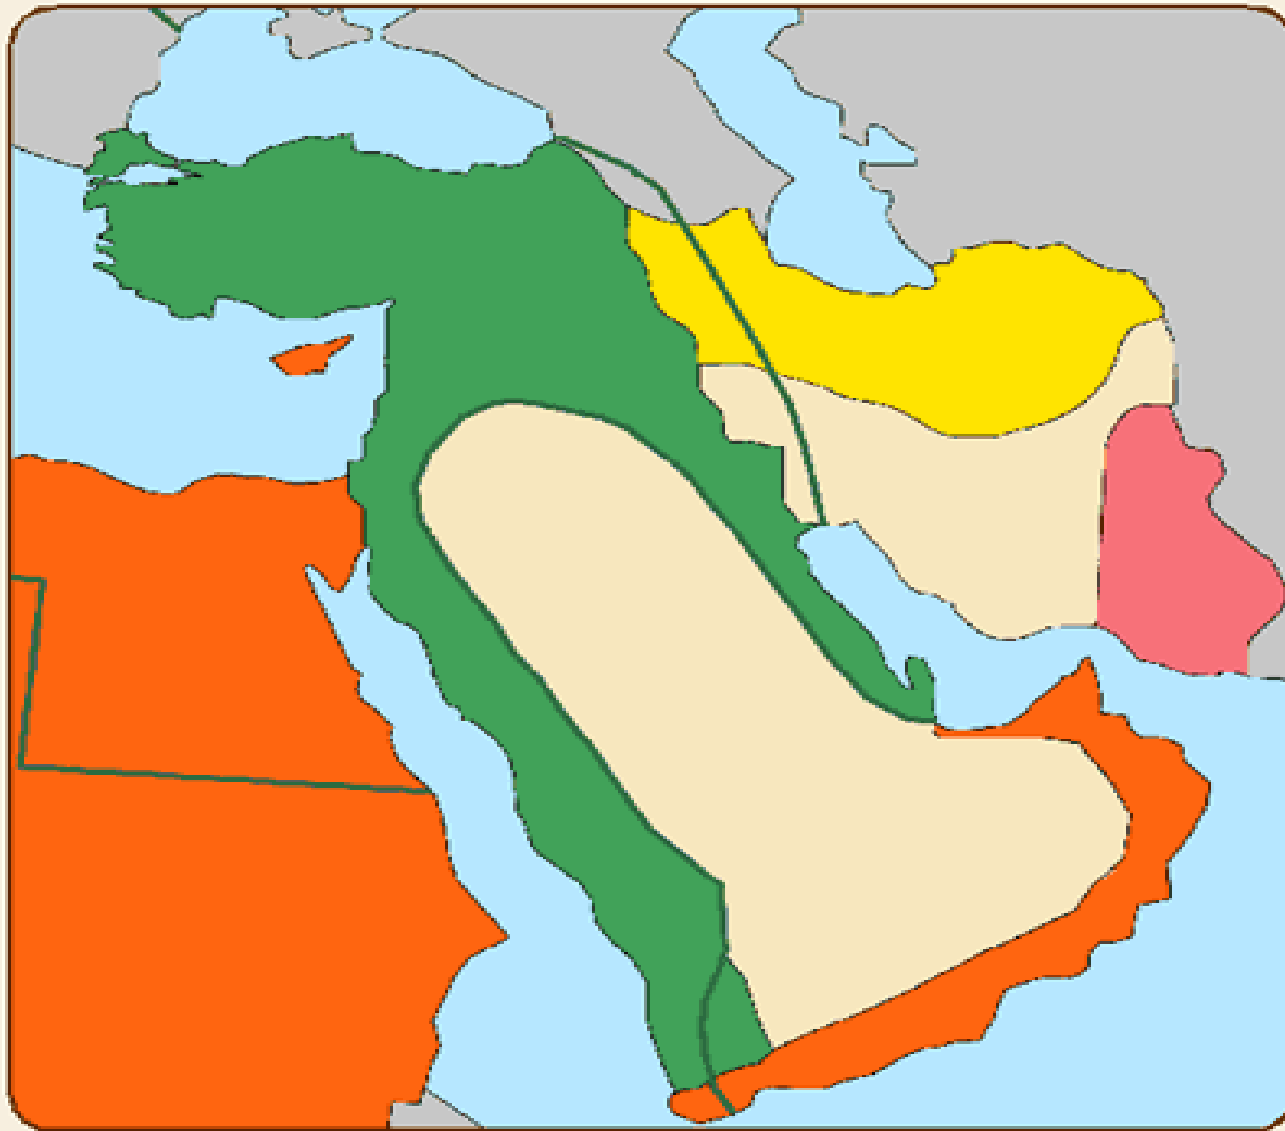

“Renowned Jerusalem itself,
the stateliest name in history,
has lost all its ancient grandeur ...”

“... The wonderful temple which was the pride and the glory of Israel, is gone, and the Ottoman crescent is lifted above the spot where, on that most memorable day in the annals of the world, they reared the Holy Cross.”

During World War I

Britain's war effort was hindered by ineffective manufacturing of explosives.

Britain's situation suddenly changed when Jewish Chemist Chaim Weizmann made a breakthrough in synthesizing the needed solvent "acetone" by a bacterial fermentation process.

In gratitude to
Dr. Chaim Weizmann,

Lord Arthur Balfour issued
the Balfour Declaration,
Nov. 2, 1917,
establishing a Jewish homeland in former Turkish land under British control.

Arthur James Balfour (1848-1930)

Foreign Office,
November 2nd, 1917.

Dear Lord Rothschild,

I have much pleasure in conveying to you, on behalf of His Majesty's Government, the following declaration of sympathy with Jewish Zionist aspirations which has been submitted to, and approved by, the Cabinet

"His Majesty's Government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavours to facilitate the achievement of this object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other country"

I should be grateful if you would bring this declaration to the knowledge of the Zionist Federation.

The Balfour Declaration

Dear Lord Rothschild,

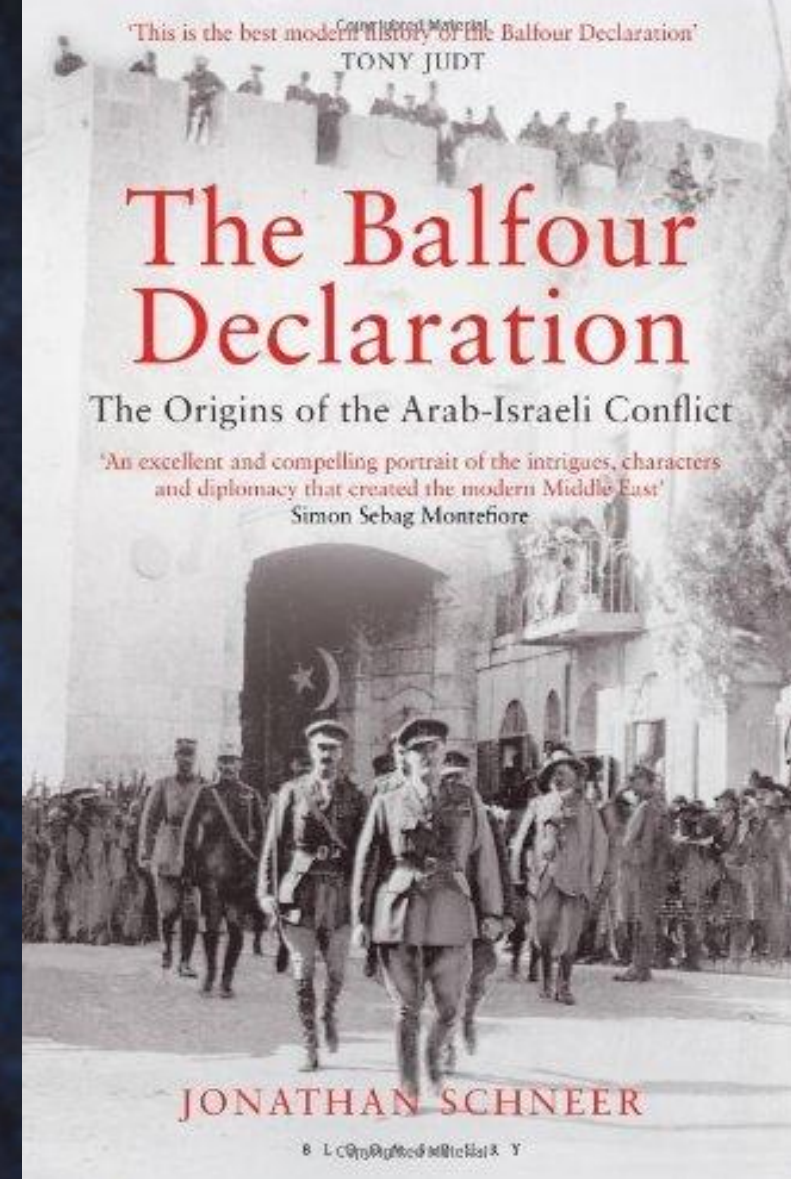

I have much pleasure in conveying to you, on behalf of His Majesty's Government, the following declaration of sympathy with Jewish Zionist aspirations which has been submitted to, and approved by, the Cabinet

His Majesty's Government view with favour the establishment in Palestine of a national home for the Jewish people, and will use their best endeavours to facilitate the achievement of this object, it being clearly understood that nothing shall be done which may prejudice the civil and religious rights of existing non-Jewish communities in Palestine, or the rights and political status enjoyed by Jews in any other country"

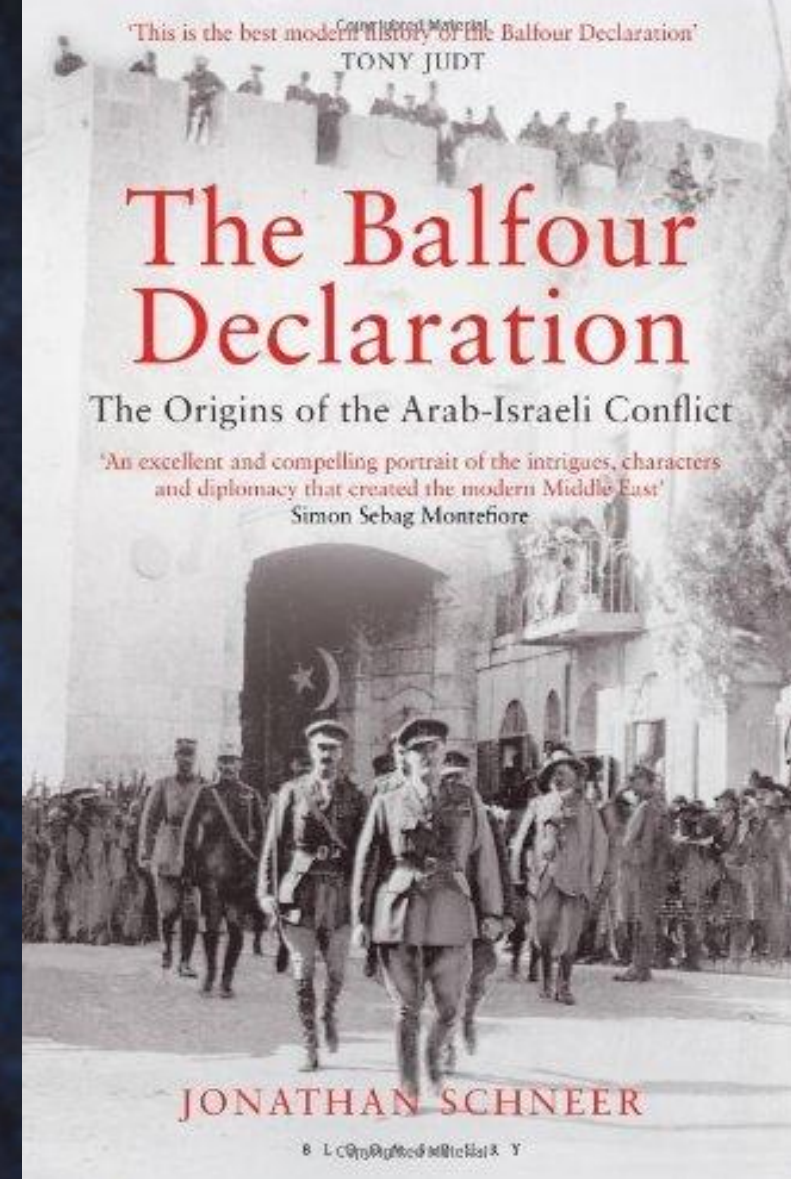

Geoffrey Alderman,
Jewish Chronicle,
November 8, 2012:
"The Balfour Declaration was born out of religious sentiment. Arthur
Balfour was a Christian mystic who believed that the Almighty ..."

“... had chosen him to be an instrument of the Divine Will, the purpose of which was to restore the Jews to their ancient homeland — perhaps as a precursor to the Second Coming of the Messiah.”

“... The Declaration was thus intended to assist in the fulfillment of biblical prophecy. This appealed to Lloyd George ... believing in the prophecies of a Bible he knew inside out.”

The Zionist movement for the Jews to return to the Holy Land initially grew out of America's 19th century Second Great Awakening Religious Revival.

The San Remo Conference, April 1920, gave France mandate-control of Syria. France brought in army and drove King Faisal out.

Another war almost broke out.

When French invaded Syria, many Arabs fled from Syria to the British Mandate that was given to Jews.

One who fled was Amin al-Husseini who became the Mufti of Jerusalem

Britain stepped in to avert war by taking two-thirds of the British Mandate away from the Jews and creating another new country called Transjordan, or Jordan.

11 Israelis, 5 Arabs Dead --Battle at Munich Airport

Terrorists Gun Down Captives

Washington Post Service

Munich
Arab terrorists turned into a scene of political murder yesterday that began with a pre-dawn attack on Israeli athletes in the Olympic Village and ended 20 hours later in a bloody airport ambush. When it was over, 11 Israelis, 5 Arab terrorists and one West German policeman were dead. The head of Arab guerrillas invaded the Israeli team's quarters at the Olympic grounds before dawn, shot and killed two athletes and a coach. They held nine others hostage through a day of tense negotiations. They ended with captives and hostages were taken by helicopter to the airport and a plane that was to fly them to Cairo.

SHOOTING

Palestinian guerrillas opened fire on the Arabs who had been taken to the airport. The guerrillas who escaped the first shot turned their guns on the helicopters with the hostages inside, according to witnesses.

Five of the Palestinian commandos were killed and three captured, witnesses said. One policeman was seriously wounded. The guerrillas who escaped the first shot turned their guns on the helicopters with the hostages inside, according to witnesses.

Nixon Visits S.F., Pushes Bay Park

By George Murphy

President Nixon took a brief ferryboat ride on San Francisco Bay on a windy, sunny day yesterday, posed for pictures on the tip dock with the Golden Gate Bridge in the background, and said with a grin: "I'll never have a better boathouse."

The President later held a press conference at the bow of the motor vessel Golden Gate (the San Francisco ferry) to urge another environmental action on the proposed Golden Gate National Recreation Area.

THE MAN OF PEACE

Sadat, moments before they murdered him

EGYPT proclaimed a state of emergency last night as the work waited tensely for the next move following the assassination of President Sadat.

A safe Sadat man took over power until Parliament elects a new Head of State. But while the West mourned a man of peace, many in the Arab world rejoiced.

Who did it? Undoubtedly a group of men wearing Egyptian uniforms at a Cairo military parade. But who was behind them, and whether the killing was political or religious, is not known.

Libya's Colonel Kadhafi was suspected of being behind the killing of the Egyptian President. But the old enemy, was not.

THE GUNS

This was to have been 62-year-old Anwar Sadat's great day, the anniversary of his 1973 offensive against Israel. In black, beribboned uniform, spurs on his shiny boots, he stood smiling and handsome in a grandstand, looking the calm of his eyes.

All eyes were on a squadron of Mirage jets screaming over, weaving coloured smoke trails. On the ground soldiers' battle-cries roared loud ahead for the climax of the parade.

One of the leaders seemed to stall right in front of the presidential box and a man in olive-drab fatigues and blue belt leaped out. He threw a grenade which exploded behind him.

Then half a dozen more men were out, shouting "Odey to Egypt—attack" and firing automatic rifles on the run.

Bullets rippled into the stands—full of women and children as well as military
